

Dear Ellenbrook Parents,

Please see the message below which was sent to all schools today from Salford's schools security advisor.

'Dear Colleagues, please see below message to reassure parents regarding the hoax bomb threats. This is authorised by Children's Services and the Press Team.

Parents urged not to panic

You will be seeing media reports of 'bomb threats' to schools in the Greater Manchester area.

Please do not panic. This links to an incident last week in the Metropolitan Police area (Greater London) where over 100 schools received exactly the same email.

*It was checked out thoroughly and carefully by the police and absolutely no evidence of any merit in the threat was found.

Two educational establishments (not schools) in Salford have so far received a similar email. GMP has been in direct contact with both and both remain open.

Once again, please be reassured that GMP is treating this as a large scale hoax and advising that evacuation on the basis of the email alone is not required.

Merseyside Police have contacted GMP reporting 50 plus incidents in their area also.

This has not been declared a critical or major incident

If anyone has information about the hoax or receives such a hoax, please contact Greater Manchester police via the usual manner.

Kind regards
