

Dear Parents,

This Thursday (1st March) is World Book Day!

The theme for this year is Sharing Stories from Breakfast to Bedtime. To this aim, it would be wonderful if on Thursday every child could bring in a book to share with their classmates.

Don't worry if your child can't find a book at home they would love to share, or they forget, as we have lots of books in schools to share. That said, the day will work much better if your child brings a book they love that they are happy and confident to talk about with enthusiasm.

Also, don't forget to please join in at home to help us make Thursday a day of sharing stories from the very beginning to the very end of the day!

Thank you for your continued support.
